Meditation – In sports, when the clock runs out, or when a baseball team runs out of outs or when a golfer runs out of holes to be played, the game is over. The contest is officially decided. There are no more possibilities. In other words, eventually, there arrives a moment when miracles can no longer happen. The story has ended. With Jesus, there was no chance of life, and yet life happened and it happened to the full and our story with God continues.

Quiet and Personal Confession

Consider this Prayer of Confession:

O God, like Thomas, we have heard the news that You have died and that You have risen from the dead. Like Thomas, we have heard the testimony that You have conquered the grave and all of its power. Like Thomas, we have been stubborn and slow to allow ourselves to be transformed by this news. We are forgiven of our sin, but we stifle our joy with worry and fear. You are Lord over all things, and yet we withhold full devotion as we wait for You to do still more, to prove to us that You are indeed victorious. Other believers rejoice in You, while we resist following their lead. Please forgive us for failing to see that You have already blessed us completely. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.

Call To Worship

Following the resurrection of Jesus, the apostles gave their testimony with great power, and God's grace was upon them all.

Our own testimony declares that we have been saved by Jesus. Through His suffering and death, we have been forgiven of our sin.

How very good and pleasant it is when kindred live together in unity! It is like the abundant blessing of God, overflowing in our lives.

We are the family of faith. We are brothers and sisters with each other and with Christ. We are one in the Spirit and one in the Lord.

Thomas doubted the resurrection because he did not want to put his faith in an idle tale. He was unwilling to believe something so wonderful.

Our faith has seen the Lord and He is alive! We have seen the holes in His hands and we declare that He is our Lord and God.
