Meditation – Can these dead, dry bones live? I am the Resurrection and the Life...do you believe this? Today is a day of important questions to us from God. Before we answer, we should know that it isn't about resurrection. It's about whether or not we believe in God's ability to resurrect the dead. It isn't about what God can do, because, clearly, God can do anything. It's about whether or not we trust in what only God can do. Before we answer, let us all consider what we really believe.

Rest On Us

Quiet and Personal Confession

Consider this Prayer of Confession:

O God, we confess that we have turned the miracle of resurrection into our birthright. We assume that life is simply what naturally comes to all of us after we die. We confess that we feel as if we deserve this blessing. In all of these ways, we have reduced and even removed the great act of mercy and grace and power that we need from You. We confess that we have made ourselves blind to our need to be forgiven in order to live. We have forgotten about the valley of the dry bones, and the tomb of Lazarus, where the only chance at life was something that only You could provide. Please forgive us for taking You and Your blessings for granted. Please open our eyes to our desperate and constant need of You. In Jesus' name we pray, Amen.

Call To Worship

Keith Holmes

We cry to you from out of the depths, O Lord, and we also sing Your praises. Let Your ears be attentive to the voice of our prayers!

God has made this time and place and God has blessed it.

God welcomes us into His glorious presence and hears us when we call.

Lord Jesus, if You kept track of all of our sins and iniquities, who could stand? Indeed, we would have no hope. We would never be saved.

There is forgiveness with Jesus. He does not hold our sins against us. He has died to set us free. We worship the Lord in reverence and awe.

Let us all wait for the Lord. Our souls will wait, and in His Word, we put our hope. My soul will wait for the Lord with great anticipation.

We will put all of our hope in the Lord. We will not hold back, for with the Lord, there is steadfast love, redemption, and peace.
